if life is such a drag, and they can do it better let 'em take you miles from home tonight
let 'em take you miles from home you say that you care for the people you fail tell them what you wanna do
tell them what you wanna do love or revenge that they've forgotten
tell them what the hell you choose to let them take you from your good life (why don't you) let them take you from your good life if life is such a drag, and this will make it better let 'em take you miles from home tonight if daddy isn't there, and mommy doesn't care let 'em take you miles from home the smiles you once fail, now leave you aware

rich little girl is taking a stand
tell them what you wanna do

to let them take you from your good life (why don't you)

is it better to judge all the clothes that you wear, to pick up a gun and put your fist in the air, no fantasy reality, it's what's really out there tell them what you want to do

in a burned out square in the suburbs, ??? the little girl on the move, in the end you always chose the silver spoon it's what's best for you so tell them why don't you let them take you from your good life (why don't you) to let them take you from your good life (what you choose)

to let them take you from your good life (why don't you)
