

Smokey Robinson & The Miracles "You Must Be Love"

Visit "You Must Be Love" on MotoLyrics.com

You look as if you're softer than a rosebud,
And you're warmer than the sun that makes it grow.
Right now you're walking away.
I'm gonna stop you and say.
I don't believe in being so bold,
But from the things that I've been told,
You must be love.
Oh my, You must be love, Yeah.

You look as if you're lonely out walking.
You don't even notice I'm out watching you.
Ooo But the closer you come,
You make me feel more in love.
I can't say it positively,
But from the feelings that you give me,
You must be love.
I do believe that you must be love, Yeah.

Oh love couldn't possibly be,
Anything that you're not.
I know that love couldn't possibly have,
Anything you haven't got.

(You're walking away,
I'm gonna stop you and say),
Ah you may not be the love that I've heard about,
But if I had to chose between two,
No question in my mind,
I'd pick you every time.
Although love's been described to me,
You fit the description to a tea, so,

[Fade out]

You must be love.
I do believe that you must be love.
I can tell by the way you make me feel.
I can tell, cause the feeling's so real.
I do believe that you must be love.
Oh Baby

