Oh well, oh well,
you're on your own again yes
And who can tell,
Maybe this time, that's how you'll stay
Too bad too bad,
He's gone and left you but it's
So sad so sad
I warned you about the things you say

You wonder why
You lose every guy
You don't even try
It's just the things you say

Hello hello,
Who's this you're talking to now and so, and so looks like you've found another day

You wonder why...

Now you've gone and brought him down and he says he ain't hangin' around you have told him that he's n good He doesn't do the things he should No wonder he has gone away all that's left for Oh well, oh well,
you're on your own again yes
And who can tell,
Maybe this time, that's how you'll stay
Too bad too bad,
He's gone and left you but it's
So sad so sad
I warned you about the things you sayme to say is,

You wonder why...
