Hey hey hey
I'm not gonna listen to what you say anymore
Your advice gets me nowhere
Always with some seemingly harmless concession
To blur the lines away

(chorus)

And I always believed you
I used to believe you
But not anymore
The game is up
I'm on to you now
I won't be playing the pawn to you now
You might have thought you won
But your plans have been undone
By the rising of the sun
I am on to you now

Now now now
I'm not gonna let you tell me how I should live
Your wisdom isn't wisdom at all
The sunlight has found you
And shattered the darkness around you
Where you stood and whispered

(chorus twice)

The game is up
I'm on to you now
I won't be playing the pawn to you now
You might have thought you won
But your plans have been undone
By the rising of the sun
I am on to you now
