The summer is gone I can't believe
It went so fast
Why do only the cold and lonely times
Seem to last.
Now it's late at night
I watch you sleepin
I wanna wake you up
And tell you I'm sorry, though I know
I can't make it up.
I made my mistakes now baby
But I did the best I could.
It takes what it takes and sometimes
It takes longer than it should
To just live the kind of life that we both
Have been dreaming of.
There are no mistakes in love.
I walk through a fire in my dreams
Just to pull you through.
But when I'm awake somehow it seems
I'm just so hard on you.
Baby a change has got to come
And I can't see
After another winter's gone,
Well, who's gonna rescue me.
There are no mistakes now baby
We did the best we could.
It takes what it takes and sometimes
It takes much more than it should
To just make the choices that we both
Have been dreaming of.
There are no mistakes in love.
The nights are much colder now
And I feel the need to have you near.
Maybe we can start all over.
I feel a change in the air.
There are no mistakes now baby
We do the best we can.
It just takes what it takes and sometimes
It's so hard to understand
And just take the chances that we all
Have been dreaming of.

There are no mistakes in love,
There are no mistakes in love,
Oh, there are no mistakes in love.
