"Smile"

Wielding words like a blade, you cut me off and shut
me up.
It's like silver space.
You're just in the wrong place.
This was no honest mistake.

And I couldn't fake a smile to save my life.
And this tightness in my chest I'll use for another late night.
And I just stopped by to see and you were alone like me.

Her skinny legs, I'm coming to you.
I've got a heart that wants a lot.
Can this this feeling last forever?
Probably not, I'm young at heart.
There is a light and it went out.
A shaved head and a boring night.
Her skinny legs, I'm coming to you.
I'm afraid not ever, never, no.
