It follows me around, it hurts to even breathe
The last night I spent with you before I watched you leave
I fall apart inside every time you cross my mind
Now I wish you'd come back home

Every time I think of you
Get caught up in the things we'd do
And I fall again for you
The way your name rolls off my lips
Felt so good every time we kissed till 4 am
I want that again

Even after all the bad you do
I still fall for you

You let your mind convince your heart to run away
And that distance brought us both to where we are today
I fall apart inside each time I think about that night
That I had to let you go

Every time I think of you
Get caught up in the things we'd do
And I fall again for you
The way your name rolls off my lips
Felt so good every time we kissed till 4 am
I want that again

Even after all the bad you do, woah
I still fall for you

The way your name rolls off my lips
Felt so good every time we kissed till 4 am
I want that again

Even after all you put me through
Even after all the bad you do
I still fall for you
Oh, I still fall for you

Every time I think of you
Get caught up in the things we'd do
And I fall for you.
