

Snatch Magnet "Widow"

Visit "Widow" on MotoLyrics.com

I heard you were a widow
You married money and you loved it
With your heart and with your sould
It was a husband and provider
You have seldom been alone
They call you many names
But you've been faithful to the bone

You could have owned me
For half of what I paid
Bought and sold me
Half my kingdom to posses you
For a moment if that's the only way

I heard you were a widow

And if my fortune is amiss then
I must seem to disappear
I might as well be lost at sea
I'm easy to ignore
And if my fortune never finds me
I shall never wash to shore

You could have owned me
For half of what I paid
Bought and sold me
Half my kingdom to posses you
For a moment if that's the only way

Visit Snatch Magnet page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.