(People tell me I don't know what hip hop is I know... that's the problem) It's dickriding, bullshit, patronizers, and politics It's potheads, fake revolutionaries and alcoholic kids It's a disgruntled religion Goals with tunnel vision Its bitches, shitheads, motherfuckers and assholes It's a big mess confusing stress, it's a hassle Its ten thousand ego maniacs with insecure swords Drawn in front of a Jimmy Hoffa castle Its spray cans, box cars toys with paint and gay bands It's homophobic macho guys Media zombies Material worshipers and gestapo spies It's a black art filled with white posers It's internationally known with unbiased brown nosers It's fun, it's my life, it's most people's hobby It's an excuse to be snobby, its choppy crossfaders and rusty needles It's free expression inspired by Neil Young, Frank Zappa and the Beatles It's performing at empty shows with nobody there It's putting your last drop of energy into a song and having nobody care It's frustration, hate, negativity, depression and envy Man it's fucken music and it's in me (AwareNess) I know that, you think that, hip hop's a name I know that, you think that, it's all the same Live once and die twice and you become the game Da da da da da da da da
