Looking around
We could not ever see
All the lies that are taking us down
The river will run
And we can escape
From all the lies that are taking our way

Yeah you know who you are

Look into my eyes and tell me the truth
Now you are unaware
When we stop and stare

Trying to get on
To a brand new day
Would you leave your soul in a different time
We will never let go
Of the hope that we seek
We will watch our souls float in a different time

You know who you are
Now we have never got so far

Look into my eyes and tell me the truth
Now you are unaware when we stop and stare
Look into my eyes and tell me the truth
Now you are unaware when we stop and stare

Look into my eyes and tell me the truth
Now you are unaware when we stop and stare
Look into my eyes and tell me the truth
Now you are unaware when we stop and stare
Unaware when we stop and stare
