Your left to burn from your feet
The pressure rising
Can't you feel?
Those sleepless nights, will leave you upside down
You try to break away when you hit the ground

You look very tired when your hired and you try not to show
Fire with desire if you feel like letting go

When the lights burn out
We are looking up again with doubt
When all the lights burn out
We are looking up again with doubt
When all the lights burn out

We stand straight on the front line
And take hold of what is done in life

You look very tired when your hired and you try not to
Fire with desire if you feel like letting go

When the lights burn out
We are looking up again with doubt
When all the lights burn out
We are looking up again with doubt
When all the lights burn out
We are looking up again with doubt
When all the lights burn out
We are looking up again with doubt

When the lights burn out
We are looking up again with doubt
When all the lights burn out
We are looking up again with doubt
When all the lights burn out
We are looking up again with doubt
When all the lights burn out
We are looking up again

When all the lights burn out
We are looking up again with doubt
When all the lights burn out
We are looking up again with doubt
We are looking up again
