Look into the light
But it does not matter
When my body collides
Everything will fall
Look into my eyes
Can you see me at all

I look into the light
But it doesn't matter
When my body collides
Everything will fall
Look into my eyes
Can you see me at all

And so it goes on and on and on and on and on

You wake up with the same routine
And not expect to fall into a different scene
You really want to know the reason why
The reason that you feel, you deserve to die

And so it goes on and on and on
It doesn't matter
On and on and on
Watched the disaster fall
On and on and on
It doesn't matter on and on and on and on and on

Look into the light
But it doesn't matter
When my body collides
Everything will fall
Look into my eyes
Can you see me at all

Watching the waves crash
What comes after does anything at all last
Watching the waves crash
Can you see me at all

I feel that I am going down

I've got this soul that's burning underneath my veins
Nothing will last in this town
I look around and I don't know who is left to blame

And so it goes on and on and on
It doesn't matter
On and on and on
I watched the disaster fall
On and on and on
It doesn't matter
It doesn't matter

Look into the light
But it doesn't matter
When my body collides
Everything will fall
Look into my eyes
Can you see me at all

Watching the waves crash
What comes after, does anything at all last
Can you see me at all

Can you see me at all (x3)
Can you see me (x2)
