

Time Is A Thief

"We're Not Strangers"

Visit "We're Not Strangers" on MotoLyrics.com

We take on the minds of the weakest
Counting all the dreams that they once spent
I called out your name a hundred times before
But you could not hear me
I could never tell what I'm supposed to do

Dear God

Look at the season it is full of fear
I could fall to my knees and you would never care

We take on the lives of the innocent
And we will self destruct when our time is spent
I called out your name a hundred times before
But you could not see me
I could never tell what I'm supposed to do

Dear God

Look at the season it is full of fear
I could fall to my knees and you would never care

We will come undone (x2)

Look at the season it is full of fear
I could fall to my knees and you would never care

We will come undone (x2)

We will come undone, we will (x3)

We will come undone

Look into the minds of the weakest, look at all the lives
you have neglected

Visit Time Is A Thief page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.