try to save yourself
from all the things you really hate but it's too late they're all around you
getting closer every single day there's no escape

all the doors are closed cannot find the strength
used it up
now it's all gone

where will you go
you just don't know
you're hiding here
you're going down
you hear the sound
it's spinning round
you're falling fast
you'll never last

now you're on your own
'cause all your friends have given up you're too much
you think about how much you suck now your sanity is fucked nothing left to save

thought you hated them
now they hate you back
one by one
they let you down
