

Craig Morrison

"Turn Back"

Visit "Turn Back" on MotoLyrics.com

She said she's leavin' as she made for the door
She can't stop screamin', she don't want it no more
I can't believe it, watching my life pass me by
And as she slammed the door on me, she never said goodbye

If I needed you now and said like never before
Would you turn back round and would you love me
once more
If in me you could find or in some way could see
Do you think you could tell, could you turn back to me
Cause I need you here

I've seen at sun-up that whiskey bottle by my bed
That twelve ounce friend just kept on playin' with my head
So time and time, I'd pray for change I need to find
You where always there for me yet I was blind

If I needed you now and said like never before
Would you turn back round and would you love me
once more
If in me you could find or in some way could see
Do you think you could tell, could you turn back to me
Cause I need you here

Take one look around, see all those stars we found
All those crazy nights, we'd feel each other near
And every now and then, those nights would have no end
Oh baby turn back round, I need you here

Cause I need you here
Cause I need you here
Turn back, turn back, turn back
Oh baby turn back around

Visit Craig Morrison page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

