I seemed to think I had you to myself
But I've been living in a second doubt
The look in your eyes tells me something else
And now I know I never had your heart

Girl, I got this crazy feeling
You know I never stopped believing
You turned all my loneliness to truth
Baby don't you break this feeling
Whether or not my heart starts beating
Tell me did I mean a thing to you?

Catch the midnight train to go back home
It's hard to tell how long my soul can roam
Things don't feel right I can feel them in my bones
As the train pulled up I saw you in his arms

I never knew the reason why every time I asked you lied
Now I know that you ain't coming home
You used up all your alibi's its hard to tell the reason why
Why you have to leave this boy alone?

Girl, I got this crazy feeling
You know I never stopped believing
You turned all my loneliness to truth
Baby don't you break this feeling
Whether or not my heart starts beating
Tell me did I mean a thing to you?

Some of the time I think I might be going crazy
Some of the time I think I might be going mad
Your the only one I know that I think can save me
Your the best thing that I've ever had

Girl, I got this crazy feeling
You know I never stopped believing
You turned all my loneliness to truth
Baby don't you break this feeling
Whether or not my heart starts beating
Tell me did I mean a thing to you?
