The world is consuming me
And I don't feel so happy here today
I'm numb and I don't feel and
I used to be a baby in my day

So where is the one you loved?
Did she hold you happy next to her?
And your head hangs lightly
And everyone's slightly drunk tonight
They're drunk tonight again
I Don't need to see you, no not now
I Don't need to see you, no not now

My head it is hanging now and
My eyes on the ground, the ground, the ground
And everyone's so patronising
I don't see when the real thing comes around

So where is your mother now
Did she hold you happy next to her
And your head hangs lightly
And everyone's slightly drunk tonight
They're drunk tonight again
I Don't need to see you, no not now
I Don't need to see you, no not now
And maybe no work done today, no work done today.
No. No. No.
No work done today. No. No. No. No, work done today.
