She smiles and he makes a joke about her freckles
And for miles they drive singing love song all the way
Her feet up on the dashboard
Leaving footprints on the glass
It's just a, another day in love

Just stop the road and
Starts to fill up their old jeep
She looks like heaven
Sweetly sippin' sweet iced tea
She knows he's starring
And she laughs and gives a wink
It's just another day in love

It's just another morning
Another afternoon
Another evening that ends with an I love you
Another kiss from the lips they learned to trust
Another morning
Another day in love

He looks over and she finally falls asleep
One hand driving and the other on her knee
He can't help thinking this is what it's supposed to be
It's just another day in love

It's just another morning
Another afternoon
Another evening that ends with an I love you
Another kiss from the lips they learned to trust
Another morning
A, Another day in love

Love was amazing
When it took them by surprise
But it's been here everyday
They trust it to arrive
Every day and every night

Back at home they're sitting curled up on the couch
He's popping popcorn and she's picking movies out

Holding each other they can shut the whole world out
It's just a, another day in love

It's just another morning
Another afternoon
Another evening that ends with an I love you
Another kiss from the lips they learned to trust
Another morning
Another day in love
Another morning
Another day in love
Another morning
Another day in love
