Here comes the future
And who knows where it could lead
Here comes the future
And who knows where we're gonna be . . .

I look ahead and try my best to see
A new horizon across the glistening sea
The days are warmer . . .
I open my eyes as the sun glows
Look all around me
And try to see where the time goes

Because your dreams . . . need help to flow
You keep them warm . . . they melt like snow

Don't fade out of my life
Cos I need you now (I need you now)
We'll get happy when the time is right
And I need you now . . .

Here comes the future
Ans who knows where it could lead
Here comes the future
Ans who knows where we're gonna be . . . ?

You were my dream . . . how could you know?
You never dreamed I'd tell you so . . .

Where do our spirits go?
Where do our heartbeats go?
Where do our best dreams go?
I try but I don't know . . .

Don't fade out of my life
Cos I need you now
It's like the seeds need sun and rain to grow
And I need you now . . .
