Every time you care, no one's ever there
Anytime you try to be prepared, no one seems aware
Can't they see you're lonely, like me
Look into my eyes, they will never lie
I can't even separate my mind from a single smile
Anytime you call me you just take me over

Anytime you come to me I'm ready for the energy
Running through your hands and it's never gonna end

My eyes have never been so wide
I want to stand inside your light
So tell me what you keep inside
I'll keep it between us you and I

Something in the way you communicate
Makes me wanna see you every day, makes me wanna stay
Just to watch the time move with you
I just can't believe that someone will leave you
There's not a reason in the world you should be alone
Anyone who can't see, is a waste of your time

Needing you right here with me, I'm ready for the energy
Running through your hands and it's never gonna end

My eyes have never been so wide
I want to stand inside your light
So tell me what you keep inside
I'll keep it between us you and I

Needing you right here with me, I'm ready for the chemistry
Running through your hands and it's never gonna end

You and I, you and I
So tell me what you keep inside
I wanna stand inside your light
So tell me what you keep inside
I'll keep it between us you and I
