I've got my hand pressed to my heart again
I'm swearing while I'm making promises Still living life like today will be the last
I never thought I'd be alone again
I thought you'd always be here 'til the end
Someday you'll say the same damn thing, my friend

Just cause you never saw it happen don't mean it won't
If you never saw the ending don't mean it won't come
To visit you by surprise, can't hide it no more to me, yeah
You never saw it coming, you can't know it all

You whistle while you go to work again
You're acting carefree but I know with you There's got to be a lot of worry on your mind
I never take one thing for granted
I'll always be here taking chances
A new door opened and a new day will begin

Just cause you never saw it happen don't mean it won't
If you never saw the ending don't mean it won't come
To visit you by surprise, can't hide it no more to me,
yeah
You never saw it coming, you can't know it all

It's easy to be what the world tells you they want you to be
You can't turn it off, but there's a million things I want you to know

Just cause it never happened, don't mean it won't
If you never saw it happen, don't mean it won't

Just cause you never saw it happen don't mean it won't
If you never saw the ending don't mean it won't come
To visit you by surprise, can't hide it no more to me,
yeah
You never saw it coming, you can't know it all

Just cause you never saw it happen don't mean it won't

If you never saw the ending don't mean it won't come
To visit you by surprise, can't hide it no more to me,
yeah
You never saw it coming, you can't know it all
