Too much blood she'd
From the cause of a "loved one"
What here has gone so wrong?
The tears that you cry
Your own wish to die
She can't be the reason

She was never something you wanted.
Heart break, Suicide,
You're stuck thinking how could you deserve it?
With these tears that fall

When you stared into her eyes,
You were the only one who felt love
I hope she gets a good look at your arms
So that she knows what she has done

Sitting alone on your own
What has happened to you?
She had it all planned out
Before it started
Thoughts of the end corrupt you,
And we know you can't stand it
Put down that knife in your hand
We all know she isn't worth it

Get yourself together
We know that you'll be fine
Like many others before you,
You will not die for this
Get yourself together
We know that you'll be fine
Like many others before you,
You will not die for her
