This life
Just let me sit alone here for awhile
I won't crack a joke, or even smile
No longer hide the fact, that I am sick
I'm sick and tired of all these promises
Don't mind me when I make my promises
I'm so tired of being here
Now I'm, Ready to go

All these thoughts that happen in my head
Hopelessly alone here in my bed
If you knew that I trembled and I fell down on my knees
I called out "God if you're there please"
"Help me make my silent panic known"
"Show me I'm not hopelessly alone"

She says, "Where's the rent? And When will you be home?"
I love her, but she won't leave me alone
The car, the job and on and on, a dream
I used to think I'd rise above it all
These dark and empty days have made me fall
I've gone way past the edge
Now I'm, Going to explode

All these thoughts that happen in my head
Hopelessly alone here in my bed
If you knew that I trembled and I fell down on my knees
I called out "God if you're there please"
"Help me make my silent panic known"
"Show me I'm not Hopelessly Alone"

(Musical Break)

Show me I'm not Hopelessly Alone
Hopelessly Alone
Hopelessly Alone
Hopelessly Alone
