Well I'm on the verge of suicide
I'm broke down deep where I can't hide
I'm way past tears
It's hell I'm going through

I can't drag myself out of bed
There's blackness moving in my head
The sun comes up grey
And bills are overdue

The wishing well is over flowing
I can't find my dreams

There is a hill not far from here
I climb it each day of the year
Except when I'm trapped by fear
And I can't turn away

When my child cries, my heart could break
But there's more than my life at stake
I'm at the crossroad of my fate
And I can't turn away
Can't turn away

In this world of hipocrisy
There's got to be more than we can see
How can you do what you do to me?
I put my trust in you

And where can I turn in troubled times?
I need your strength to help me fly
Love can't be based on a lie
It must be true

The wishing well is over flowing
I can't find my dreams

There is a hill not far from here
I climb it each day of the year
Except when I'm trapped by fear
And I can't turn away

When my child cries, my heart could break
But there's more than my life at stake
I'm at the crossroad of my fate
And I can't turn away
Can't turn away

(Musical Break)

The wishing well is over flowing
I can't find my dreams

There is a hill not far from here
I climb it each day of the year
Except when I'm trapped by fear
And I can't turn away

When my child cries, my heart could break
But there's more than my life at stake
I'm at the crossroad of my fate
And I can't turn away
Can't tu
