We used to have so much in common
But now you've gone and changed my point of view
And now we've got so many problems
That years ago we'd never had a clue
Where did you go?
I didn't know you'd disappear
So won't you help me put the pictures back together
'cause I'm puzzled that you never
Even knew why I was here
I know you dressed in black
But respect is something you've always lacked
I don't know why I never asked you why
And now she's passed away
You think it'll all be A-OK
To go through her ?
Nine to five
Where did you go?
I didn't know you'd disappear
So won't you help me put the pictures back together
'cause I'm puzzled that you never
Even knew why I was here
(chorus)
Flowers every hour
Come pouring through the door
I don't pretend that
I like you
You can have the clock
And I can have the piano
But you can't have
The pictures too
Where did you go?
I didn't know you'd disappear
So won't you help me put the pictures back together
'cause I'm puzzled that you never
Even knew why I was here
(chorus)
