"Calling"

It's such a misery
That you're not by my side
Tell me how do I breathe
How I'm gonna stay alive
It's crazy, but it's true
I think I know since without you,
Without you, baby.

I can't get enough of you
I need you day and night
Please tell me what to do
I'm about to lose my mind
I feel like such a fool
'Cause I don't know what to do
What to do without you

And now I'm writing this song
To prove you're my love
I'm tired of being alone
Can you hear you calling
I keep on falling
I can't reach you on the phone

How can I breathe without you
Sleep without you
I need you here tonight
How can I be without you
There's no being without you
Girl, come back into my life

Can you hear me calling
Calling, calling for you
I'm calling for you

Do you remember us
Spending hours on the phone

I miss those times so much
I don't wanna be alone
All I need is one more chance
To prove that I can be your baby

Can we turn back the hands of time
And now do everything right
Everything would be so fine
I would kiss you day and night
I need you to be mine
So I can call you my baby

And now I'm writing this song
To prove you're my love
I'm tired of being alone
Can you hear you calling
I keep on falling

How can I breathe without you
Sleep without you
How can I be without you
There's no being without you

Can you hear me calling
Calling, calling for you
I'm calling for you
