Now I just can't see all the things that just could really never be
In the span of all the time and the length
People worth nothing but lured bate- fate- hate
So now I'm in control you are the ones that could be told
How to live and then how to relate to all the things that I shall create Hate-Hate

Nothing!
Yes I did say nothing
You didn't listen, you didn't listen
Nothing!
Yes I did say nothing

Why?
Never ever hear again
You'll always be my very best standing friend
Always look me dead into the face hiding all the things we don't to trace
But look at all that he's done, but the money, the money is more fun
Now notice what I've become God has given, given us a new son

Why?
I could of been what you could never be
Why?
I could have shown what you could never see
Why?
But now you've got, but now you've got a god
Why?
Flesh is the body, immortal great facade

Immortal great facade
