Well, she came around
I saw it in her face
Another time, another place
Is what she wanted

So, she let me go
So she could face this world alone
To find out where she belongs
She said, "I'm sorry"

Because I didn't know
What should have happened
Yeah, I didn't know
That I had a chance to say

Please don't go away
'Cause I will never be the same
I will never be the same

Please don't go away
'Cause I will never be the same
I will never be the same without you

Well, She came around
About a year after she was gone
I was passed out in her yard
I couldn't live without her

Just when I thought
I'd taken more than I could stand
Well, she took me by the hand
And she said, "I'm sorry"

Because I didn't know
What should have happened
And I didn't know she was gonna say

Please don't go away
'Cause I will never be the same
I will never be the same

Please don't go away

'Cause I will never be the same
I will never be the same without you, without you

Well, she came around
I saw it in her face
Another time, another place
Is what she wanted

Please don't go away
'Cause I will never be the same
I will never be the same

Please don't go away
'Cause I will never be the same
I will never be the same without you, without you
Without you, without you
