Through these eyes I've seen love and I've seen hate,
Well, I've seen the violence and the tears,
Through these eyes I got my schooling on the street,
I've seen them things in life you don't want to see,
Through these eyes I've seen the shape of things to come,
And I watched it all fall apart,
Through these eyes I've seen the broken home sick cry,
Well, I've seen the poor man's face as he stands in line,
And all my heart has made me weary,
On this road let's travel on,
Through the heart it hurts so dearly,
And the pain it lingers on,
Through these eyes I've looked the devil in the face,
And I've seen God's holy grace,
Through these eyes I've tried to walk a straighter line,
Well I found myself again, but nearly lost my mind,
And all my heart has made me weary,
On this road let's travel on,
Through the heart it hurts so dearly,
And the pain it lingers on,
And all my heart has made me weary,
On this road let's travel on,
Through the heart it hurts so dearly,
And the pain it lingers on,
And all my heart has made me weary,
On this road let's travel on,
Through the heart it hurts so dearly,
And the pain it lingers on,
