Mike Ness)

Family traditions of another kind-
A question of morals, black market love
Challenging politics with payoffs twice a month
Street survivors for another cause

Too much is not enough and enough is just too much
Not afraid of one man, not afraid of ten
Whatever it is that he wants from you
Like a pirate in the city, he's a lover man too
Just remember he always gets what he wants-
In his world he led an important life
With a gun in one hand, a drink in the other
Deep inside he knows his days are numbered
