this is where it ends
when you find my secret hideout the chapel for my memories did you know
when I was just a child I thought this was the whole world four walls of fading lullabies please don't step inside this ground is far too sacred a totem to identify

and this is all I am do you hear the fading lullaby

and I feel unreal

two letter on a box
it always made me shiver the artifacts and broken dolls
I always thought that one could play the game for two the labyrinth looks smaller now
