It wasn't my goal to ruin this precious moment.
I didn't mean to bring this up to complicate.
But just like a ghost, this conversation is cursed to come back to haunt us once again.

(chorus 1)

And I run like blazes
to keep us safe from harm.
I go for you when everyone else is gone.
Sometimes i'm just scared to be out there.
Sometimes these walls just disappear.

There's got to be more out there, besides us.
These towers are not just made by you and me.
Outside my window these bricks are piled up.
Now fake your beauty, or give yourself away.

(chorus 2)

And I run like blazes
to keep us safe from harm.
I go for you when everyone else is gone.
Now how does it feel to be guarding
your impressive set of truths.

(chorus 1)

(chorus 2)
