With so many words we stand upon our dreams
With all the hell around, it's exactly what it seems
Lying at the bottom, we can't derive our fate
In the dead of night absent are the saints

Changed men will change
There's only two kinds
One's with truth within
One's with plague inside

I don't want to see it all
Come crashing down, down in the ocean
Altering the course
Untangle this weight and send off the poisons

Fantasize the pain, let's seize the greater sound
No clarity to shape, the lost all went unfound
But with the hope of man, shine faith from all unseen
Braided hands that reach for nothing but belief

Changed men will change
Hope lives on lost
Gain strength at all costs

I don't want to see it all
Come crashing down, down in the ocean
Altering the course
Untangle this weight and send off the poisons

I don't want to see it all
Come crashing down, crashing
Come crashing down

I don't want to see it all
Come crashing down, down in the ocean
Altering the course
Untangle this weight and send off the poisons
Send off the poisons and send off the poisons
Send off the poisons

Absent are the saints
Absent are the saints

Absent are the saints
Absent are the saints
