I taste the words you divide, want to cover up
Temporary lies
And I see how you pressed your skin on limb
How, how much thicker it is, how much thicker

Mark my words
Mark my words

Voice comes through the mesh, a sign of safety
Temporary smile
Cross my heart, I'll protect my own
How much thicker it is, how much thicker

Mark my words
Mark my words

Dislocate yourself
Dislocate yourself

And this is enough poison for me, yeah
And this is enough, this is enough, this is enough, this is

Spilling the guts, spilling the guts, spilling the guts, spilling

Mark my words
Mark my words

Dislocate yourself
Dislocate your, yourself

And this is enough poison for me, yeah
And this is enough, this is enough, this is enough, this
is

Spilling the guts, spilling the guts
