I am waiting on a war, this is panic setting in
I am waiting on a war, this is panic setting in

From what it seems all could use some cleansing
Better hurry up since we're not pretending
And panic wouldn't mean so much
If there was such a thing as end in sight

But I know it's only coming in waves
To seal our silence

We're waiting on a war
Coming through this weather, all aboard
We're waiting on a war
Coming through this weather, all aboard
Into the storm

With all of this brings a death descending
Belief with the sun comes never ending
As long as there is life in hearts
There will be a thing as endless fight

But I know it's only coming in waves
To seal our silence

We're waiting on a war
Coming through this weather, all aboard
We're waiting on a war
Coming through this weather, all aboard

It's only here I find myself where karma looms
A long way down, a long way out
Come and lock us in

While we're waiting, seems like a lifetime
But while we're waiting, all aboard

We're waiting on a war
We're coming through this weather, all aboard
Horizons from the shore
Too many bloody hands, take back your life

We're waiting on a war
We're coming through this weather, all aboard
Into the storm
