Voice reminds of where we are
In a cement city, arrive

We gave it hell and we find ourselves
Coherent and so unclear
And I'm lost at sea with guides to spare
Lost at sea with guides to spare
This is the sound, waves of desperation

Ones of reminder and things that just won't heal
And in time we will step away from all of this
'Cause it's the hardest and longest
And in time we will make this all just disappear,
disappear

Let this dig in 'cause I can see the shore
I think I can make it, crash through the door
And I'm lost at sea with guides to spare
Lost at sea with guides to spare
This is the sound, waves of desperation

Ones of reminder and things that just won't heal
And in time we will step away from all of this
'Cause it's the hardest and the longest
And in time we will make this all just disappear,
disappear

We'll make this disappear, fight on We'll make this disappear, fight on, we'll
We will, we'll make this disappear
We will, we'll make this disappear

Ones of reminder and things that just won't heal
And in time we will step away from all of this

Ones of reminder and things that just won't heal
And in time we will step away from all of this
'Cause it's the hardest and the longest
And in time we will make this all just disappear

We'll make this disappear, fight on
We'll make this disappear, fight on

With the weight of the world, I was born for this
With the weight of the world, I was born for this
