It's getting late; apologies disintegrate, wasn't it such a great night? Blue stars don't seem so bright when everything you see is in black and white. And everyone paints their pictures in such beautiful colors now. But mines faded; if I ran all night I still wouldn't be far enough Can't you see I'm dying, while trying just wait for me to show. That I've had enough sleep beside me, why me? Wait for me to show. That that's it for me, I know don't care what you think I'll be waiting for this to show. That that's it for me sleep beside me, why me? Wait for me to show. And everyone paints their pictures in such beautiful colors now. But mines faded; if I ran all night I still wouldn't be far enough
From you and feeling confused let's put this to rest.
