The wrong time, the wrong place
Your talent scouts my lonely face
Of all the things I can't replace
Your talent scouts my lonely face

Well it's alright, although I know you lied
I don't mind
It's alright, although I know you lied
I don't mind

The wrong time, the wrong place
Your talent scouts my lonely face
Of all the things I can't escape
Your talent scouts my lonely face

Well I'm alright, although I know you lied
I don't mind
If my life flashed before my eyes
D'ya think I'd mind?
No...

And now, you don't need mine
You let us down
You watched us die
Now, I hang around
With people I don't even know

Well it's alright, although I know you lied
I don't mind
If my life flashed before my eyes
D'ya think I'd mind?
No...
