these days no longer last these nights no longer warm my heart is filled with cold my soul has died away and i'm alone in an other life have no more tears, have no more blood so i die alone, my carcass falls none to embrace me, save the wind no caress from beloved hand thus now this autumn kisses me and years pass so fast we soon grow old and everything is nothing but past and this is what i live fog come cover me and close my eyes

and choke my breath and end my life

this moment won't return

i die alone, my carcass falls

this autumn kisses me
