"Clown"

I'm sitting by the river
I'm feeling cold 'n' iced You never said you leave me but I saw it in your eyes
The night ain't no more friendly the clouds spinnin' round My soul, so cold and rainy my heartbeat's falling down

But I'll be sailing
good bye waving
to me, the clown

I had some love to spend for you took it all away Your mouth never really asked but you had your own way
And now I'm sitting here wondering how feelings fade around how suddenly it seems you forgot the dreams you said you found

But I'll be sailing
good bye waving
to me, the clown
