Floating, I'm floating, I'm gloating, I'm pleased
Watch me, you can't touch me
I'm down on your knees

It's not easy being here with you
There's so much that I would rather do
But that's okay because I'm floating through
The hole in your heart

Lying, we're lying in postcards and vans
Crying, you're crying all over my hands
I don't care about the things you do

It must be horrifying being you
You screwed me up and broke my heart in two
And someday someone will do that for you
There's a hole in your heart

I'll retrogress anytime you're around
I'll retrogress anytime
Anytime, anytime, anytime

Feeling so violent but nothing comes through
Concealing your feelings is poisoning you
You can cry and you can go insane

Watch the helicopters in the rain
Pump it in and pump it out again
Your emotion is a one way train
There's a hole in your heart
