You burn with a fiery passion of youth
I can't be satisfied
You read it in literature so it must be the truth
You certainly know how to have a good time
I can't be satisfied
I had some thought about it, but I was alright by night
Obviously you have something I lack;
Get out and don't come back
Did you know I'm a pessimist?
Have you ever wanted to die?
Have you no decency?
It's a hard world, that's no lie.
All the experiences we have had
I can't be satisfied
Someday you must let me know how you tell the good from the bad
I just don't care if I get out of bed
I can't be satisfied
The first sign of apathy would be check to see if you're dead
Some of my best friends are bastards like you
At least they're not neurotics too
Did you know i'm a pessimist?
Have you ever wanted to die?
Have you no decency?
It's a hard world, that's no lie.
