since you asked me not to go I won't but if you asked me if I know why I'd have to say I don't so silly me I thought you were the one silly me are you having fun and a promise is a promise still if I have to stay up all night I will waiting here in the dark until you tell you're stumbling over what you say and if I haven't hurt your feelings then why do you act this way

waiting here in the dark until you... tell me when did this get old when did you get so cold I'm losing trying to figure how and please don't try to spare my heart it's much too late to start caring what I'm feeling now excuse me if I've lost my smile I'm a little disappointed and this might take me a while

until you tell
