VERSE 1

You look at yourself in the mirror who is that man
The shadows of your face the lines are getting deeper Sand in the soles of your shoes, stories that nobody knows Hallowed out by the bombs, your brothers blood on your hands but your boots they carry on

CHORUS

This man of steel he sits and daydreams and thinks of home
These scars too real, forged in the desert unknown
Here now somehow, he finds the heart to love again
You know coming home is just the beginning

You're in a nine to five just like it never happened Broken glass in a bar next thing your pulse is racing Can't get out of your head, faces of those that you left Someone extends a helping hand, they hang on your every word but their eyes Don't understand

BRIDGE

Oh march oh march my baby, so you don't turn to stone,
Oh march oh march my baby, march till you come home
X2

Stand for a day in his shoes
A man with everything to lose Hallowed out by the bombs Your brothers blood on your hands but your boots they carry on
