"Dead by Christmas"

The party is the 13th
Till the 24th
It's not so long to go
Though it doesn't show
My temperature is getting so low

I've seen it all in a dream
I know just how it's gonna feel like
Not to be alive anymore

I'll be dead by Christmas now anyway hey hey
Tell me will you remember me that day
When you found a new one who is better than I ever was
I'll be dead by Christmas now anyway hey hey
Please give all my things away hey hey
There'll be great Christmas presents
For you and for all my friends

It's hurting inside
To see you with another, from the edge of a cloud Whatever happened to the promises that you gave Before the angels took me away?

So here I'm all dressed in white
While you're drinking up my best red wine
And you do realize
That I'm with you all the time

I'll be dead by Christmas now anyway hey hey
Tell me will you remember me that day
When you found a new one who was better than I ever
was?
I'll be dead by Christmas now anyway hey hey
Please give all my things away hey hey
There'll be great Christmas presents
For you and for all my friends

I'm getting so lonely without you
And I'm sure I am jealous too
To see another gun in my bed

Reasure I can't get no rest before you're up here with me (Come up, come up, come up, come up, come up, come up)

I'll be dead since Christmas now anyway hey hey
Leave the flowers on my grave hey hey
Sure you could join me any day now honey
You'll be dead by Christmas now anyway hey hey
Lay beside me in the family grave hey hey
We'll be making love eternally in a spiritual way

We'll be dead by Christmas now anyway hey hey
We'll sell everything away hey hey
Everybody's gonna die,
We've got a life to live,
A life after death

Goodbye Christmas day I'm gone
Christmas is forever
Goodbye Christmas day I'm gone
Christmas is forever
