First Sight

Turns me around again

Brings me face to face with my sin

I've got it, always had it

A reason to look within now

Take Flight

To your sun again

Burns the sin straight from my hands

I've got it, always had it

A reason to live within now

Every time I fall

You catch me

And every time I lose control

You help me, you save me

And every time I lose myself

You find me, redefine me

My god

How stained my hands have been

Makes me sick from inside out again

I've got it, always had it

A reason to look within now

Stand close

To my side again

Never stuck a knife in my back, friend

I've got it, always had it

A reason to live within now

Every time I fall

You catch me

And every time I lose control

You help me, you save me

And every time I lose myself

You find me, redefine me

Somebody to make me feel whole again

(My life gets better)

Somebody to make me wanna love again

(My life gets better)

Somebody to make me see the sun again

(My life gets better)

Somebody to hold me, hold me

Until this life feels better

Every time I fall
And every time I lose control
You help me, you save me
And every time I lose myself
You find me, redefine me
And every time I hate myself
You love me, forgive me
And every time I lose myself
