A lesson in democracy, I will never, never be, A
Servant of a moral standard, a rebel soul for the free,
I scream and I burn, I deny what I've learned, Can't Fight what's inside, on this blasphemous ride, Here I Stand!!

[Chorus:]

Cause he will remain, will remain the same, he's
Apart of the game and he will remain

As I cry for more, The angels burn their core, Let the Evil saints have their way, When I'm heading for Oblivion. Achieving my goals in everyway, In Malicious ways I hail the insane, Nevertheless: my Broken promises, I scream and I burn, I deny what
I've learned Can't fight what's inside, on this Blasphemous ride, here I fall!

Now, take a look at the predator's portrait
Cause these walls are closing in!

Now, take a look at the predator's portrait
Cause these walls come tumbling down [x2]

Come watch me bleed one more time!, No
Substitute left to find!, All that I hear is what I
Preach!, A mighty soul is what I keep!

I step on the face whose dragging me down, Fed up
With the precious talk, Like a sinner revealing
Himself again, Now his down and out, and ready to Strike, his ready to strike, his ready to strike, to clear
His very inside

[Chorus x2]
