Hello there
It's that beautiful scent in the air
That I've sense coming along
And I've dreamt it wouldn't take long
For you to see for you to get to me
So tell me
The story that's bout to unfold
Where you know you have me to hold
To call me your own
Keeping you safe from the cold

And I'll promise you now
I'll take you away from the night from, the night
And no matter what goes
However far we are from apart
You'll always be in my heart
Be in my heart

So tell me my pretty girl
Tell me your smiling tonight
And wipe all those tears from your eyes
I can hear your whispers
Even when all you do is breath
Take my hand I'll lead the way
Make me stay for all the days to come
Stand by me stand by me

And I'll promise you now
I'll take you away from the night from, the night
And no matter what goes
However we are from apart
You'll be always be in my heart, my heart
You'll be safe and warm away from the storm
In my heart, my heart
You'll be

And I'll promise you now
I'll take you away from the night, the night
And no matter what goes
However far we are from apart
You'll always be in my heart

And I promise you now
I'll take you away from the night, the night
And no matter what goes however far we are from apart
You'll always be in my heart
