When lost is hope and patience thin facing the void of comforts hand Unknown is the means of conquering oppressive weight that we succumb

Breathe and place your hand upon your heart your sign of life a gift we bear in desperation we compromise to ease the wound ease the wound

Synergy
side by side
you take the left i'll take the right

Synergy
were taking back the gift of life

Fear not your times come we are the chosen ones centuries of war ending by our swords

Fear not this valley shadowed by death coherent are the steps that challenge foreboding peril

May your enemies last breathe beholden by your sheatheless weapon just the beginning many more will fall with the same void of mercy they bestowed upon their victims untouched
flawless we must take a stand against the swarm of the formless take a stand unlike the others who ignored this we were born for this

Close your eyes, imagine a world that knows of no fear no pain, and no death completely complete, lacking in none this world is real, the key in your reach 2x

As the sun is covered by the darkest storm We will shine through we will rise again
