I keep telling myself its just not in my hands (this seems outta my hand man)
For losing you slowly was just not in my plan (this wasn't supposed to happen like this) I look to the sky sometimes, just hoping you're there (i don't think shes coming back this time) hoping you're there (not this time)

Cause every time I pick up a pen its all you and there beside me in my mirror, all i can see is us two pages turn so fast like all those pages do your words that bleed through

Get back in my arms and just hanging by my side losing hold of you has left me dry tell me where you run to and where do you hide know you've never once left my mind

Tell yourself I'm sorry for these things that I've done oh tell yourself never seen that love that gone no tell yourself its over now and not to run just tell yourself I'm sorry for what I've done

Cause every time I pick up a pen its all you
two

Listen while I'm talking , I don't do it too much can't help feeling that came between us whatever happened to the way that it was One thing I cant have is what I want

Who decided its gonna end up this way who decided that you could not stay you wont be here by the end of my day cause i cant even listen to words that i say

But every time I pick up a pen its still you and there beside me in my mirror, all i can see is us
two
your words that bleed through oh e oh e oh.

I swear you never really miss it till its half gone then you tighten up your grip trying to hold on didn't really appreciate it when its in your arms then you can relate to every word in your song like was i wrong but i know I'm right but in hindsight, I blame the limelight maybe i just needed time to get my mind right maybe we'll reconnect when the times right

I'm trying to think about the causes was i too bossy exactly where the fault is??

I was told to step in love with some caution cause love and shit is no difference in the darkness but love is where the heart is you can see the blood as its dripping through the gausses
So i guess I fell outta love with a smile and more love with applause's
And its quiet in my house your silence is my home and everything reminds me that I am all alone

Its quiet where you used to be and now that you're gone, there's not a sound , there's not a word but a dail tone well its quiet when I'm drinking its quiet when i smoke its___ when I'm eating, always I sleep all alone its quiet now it's louder than i sit still like a stone only from my dreams where you wont go every time I pick a pen its all you

and there beside me in my mirror, all i can see is us
two

don't pick up that pen, no I, all I say don't look in the mirror, at all I am the pages turn, the pages burn and its all cause of you

(it was tears that were soaking these pages, words that left me bleeding and pleading??)

How did i get in this predicament??? was I influenced by the benefits cause I was hitting on so many chicks lovin' you and leavin' you was the only sentiment but I guess I wasn't ready for ya cause I'm rubbing your feet , cooking spaghetti for ya taking you to parks winning teddy's for ya but in my heart I'm thinking there's someone better for ya
but my hearts like 'no not this again' cut it out black, you know how this will end and I swear I really was listening but my dick was yelling and my heart was just whispering so you know who I listened to now my hearts bitching cause hes missing you got my eyes staring at some old flicks of you when my nose swears that it can still smell the scent of you

and my soul is saying damn she was meant for you (aw oh oh)
(losing a part of myself now)
( and I'm losing myself now)
(aww)

I've been wondering, watching I've been waiting so long I've been talking, I've been listening I've been playing my song I've been hoping you'd would be leaving honestly you're not I'm not with you,
but i miss you...
